

LUNN, DAVID JOSEPH

David Joseph Lunn was born in Montreal on December 2, 1921. He was raised with his two brothers and sister by his mother, Ruth in Nelson B.C. David joined the Royal Canadian Navy and served Canada in World War II from 1941-1945. He served on the HMS Haliwell, where he was in charge of dropping depth charges. Following the war, David went to study at UBC where he received his Law Degree in 1950. He was a Provincial Court judge for over 30 years, and it was during this time he presided over the courts in Invermere and the East Kootenays. David passed away August 23, 2017.

LEST WE FORGET