

RYTER, WERNER

Werner was born in Frutigen, Switzerland, January 17, 1919. He immigrated to Canada in 1937, to Golden, B.C., with his parents and three brothers. Werner joined the Canadian Army January 20, 1943. He was shipped overseas and was in active duty in Western Europe and severely wounded in action in Italy in August 1944. He was later discharged due to his injuries. Werner married Elsie Cooper in 1948. Werner had a small cattle farm in Windermere and also worked for the Department of Highways. He loved travelling south in winter with family and friends and visiting his relatives in Switzerland. He died February 14, 1996.

LEST WE FORGET